Six Doctors and 14 Masters Included in New Faculty List

Twenty-nine new faculty members met Omaha University students on their return to the classroom this week.

They range from one dean and two full professors, an associate professor, nine assistant professors, 12 instructors, four assistant instructors and one librarian. Five of the instructors and two assistants are part-time faculty members.

All members have their bachelor degrees, 14 have master's and six have Ph.D. or doctor of education degrees.

Backgrounds Vary

A native of Estonia, a former hospital dietician, a Nebraska U.

Fired Prof. to Speak at OU

Recently discharged Illinois University instructor, Leo Koch, will speak at O.U. on "Academic Freedom as I See It."

Dr. Koch was recently discharged from Illinois U. for what was called "a breach of academic freedom."

The dismissal came after he submitted a letter to the I.U. student newspaper, the "Daily Illini," on pre-marital relations of American college students.

He has given his talk on many American campuses, and will be on the O.U. campus Oct. 5.

O.U. Biology Instructor Carl Keeler will give background information about the Koch case at an AHA organizational meeting this Sunday.

All members of the faculty have received invitations to the meeting and all students interested in the Koch controversy are invited. It will be held in Room 312 in the Student Activities Center at 2:30.

The Koch case is still pending in lieu of an Illinois State Supreme Court decision as to whether the dismissal was justified.

Severa Is Book's Associate Editor

TOMAHAWK editor, Joan Mencke has announced the staff for the 1961 TOMAHAWK.

Associate editor will be Jean Severa. Section editors will be Judi Houk, senior editor; Lou Gorr and Bruce Hunter, sports editors; John Stranglen, Greek editor and Sharon Johnson and Sue Hornish, activities editor.

Djel Ann Gallup will handle the advertising and directory chief will be Chuck Decker. Frank Tapy is in charge of art for the yearbook.

'OU Dollar Has High Value' Says Controller Keefover

"Omaha University gets more value per dollar spent than any other university in the United States" announced Controller Harold Keefover, and "that is why we are a financially sound institution."

The budget for the fiscal 1960-1961 year has been set by the Board of Regents at just over two million, 300 thousand dollars, he said.

This is a comparable figure to the budget on which the university operated last year.

Twofold Income

The biggest expenditure on the budget is salaries for over 400 employees. This bill amounts to 77.6 per cent of the total budget or about one million, 700 thousand dollars.

football letterman, three high school principals, and the English wife of a bootstrap student are included.

Dr. Kirk Naylor, who was dean at Southwestern State College, Okla., will double as dean of administration and professor of education. Col. Anson D. Marston is the other full professor. He was Deputy Division Engineer for the Missouri River Division and is a professor of engineering.

Former ISTO Man

Associate Professor John H. Page, Jr., heads the art department. He comes from Iowa State Teachers College.

New faculty members, their rank and fields:

Burwell G. Beaman, instructor in accounting; James Breeling, instructor in journalism (part time); Franklin Burden, assistant instructor in chemistry; Vajislav Dosenovich, instructor of foreign languages (part time); Mrs. Dorothy Dustin, assistant instructor of English (part time); Linda L. Edelen, instructor of women's physical education; Edward T. Finn of accounting (part time); J. Kenneth Fischer, instructor of men's physical education and assistant football coach.

Others are Paul Jay Gardner, assistant professor of biology; Rene Edson Hlavac, instructor in education; Donald Johnson, instructor of mathematics (part time); Hebert H. Jones, assistant professor of education; Donald Kemp, instructor in journalism (part time); C. Robert Keppel, assistant professor of chemistry and Ivo N. Lambi, instructor of history.

11 More Included

Robert Mackie is instructor of men's physical education and assistant basketball and baseball coach; Raymond B. Means, public services librarian; Kenneth E. Nehmer, assistant professor of art; Melvin Olson, assistant professor of music and director of choirs, and John M. Newton, assistant professor of psychology.

Other new members are Jerry N. Rojo, speech instructor and technical director (theater); James L. Taggart, assistant professor of music; Robert G. Taylor, assistant professor of accounting; Paul T. Therkildsen, assistant professor of economics; Margery Turner, instructor of English and Mrs. Faye Wadsworth, assistant instructor of English (part time).

Official Notices

A representative of the State Department will be on campus Thursday, Sept. 29 to consult with the faculty and inform interested seniors about foreign service careers.

All interested seniors are invited to attend a coffee hour at 2 p. m. in the Student Center, Room 312 B.

The 1960 TOMAHAWK can be picked up in the Tomahawk Office, Room 116 of the AA Building, any Tuesday or Thursday afternoon after 1 p. m.

Students must show their 1960 activities card.

All classes will be dismissed for a pep rally today, 11:50-12:20. The rally, sponsored by the Interpep Club, will be held in the Pep Bowl (Girls PE Field).

Robert Kennedy To Speak at 10:30

Robert Kennedy, brother of and campaign manager for Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy, will be on OU's campus this morning.

He will address an open meeting of students and faculty at 10:30 in the Conference Center auditorium. Anyone may attend.

Kennedy was formerly the legal counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee. His appearance is sponsored by the University's Young Democrats organization.

Society, Medicine To Be Highlights of '60 'Legacy' Series

The second year of the "Legacy of Man" series, lectures on the Liberal Arts, begins Sept. 28, at 7 p. m.

Designed for the "mature and discerning citizen," the "Legacy" will include discussions and lectures in five separate programs: Medicine and the Humanities, the discussion of medicine, its unique contributions, and its relationship to the humanities; Humanism—Law and Modern Society, the relationship of laws to our modern society; Literature and the Humanities, the discussion of the significant relations between literature, the humanities and humanism; Humanism in the Physical Sciences, the problems of the physical sciences as related to humanism; and Religion and Humanism, the discussion of religion as the fundamental basis of humanism.

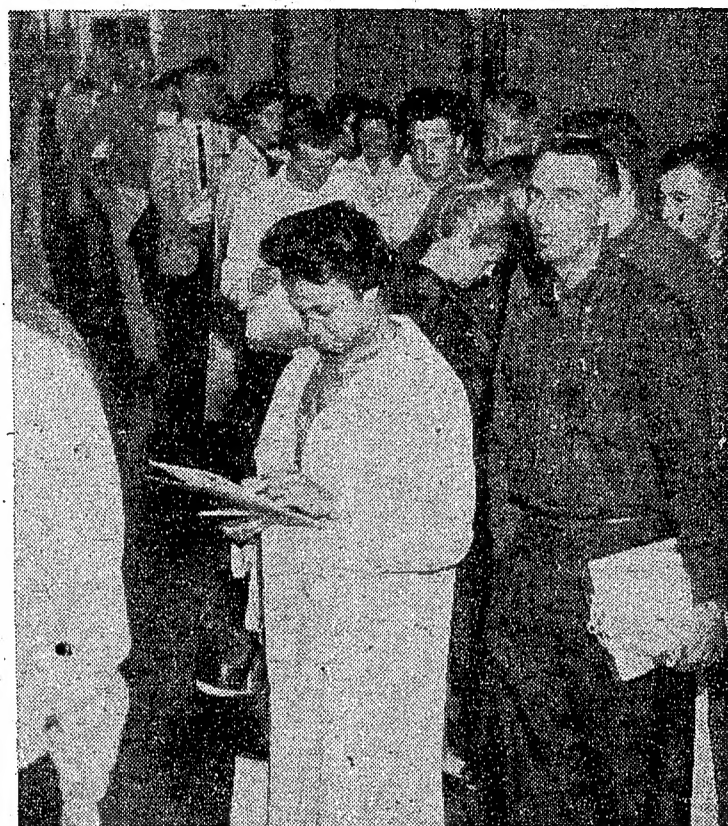

This "Legacy" dwells with the humanities, "that broad area of learning through which man asserts himself as an intellectual and esthetic being," said Dr. Robert Harper, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Instructors for OU and prominent citizens from various professions will interpret and discuss the concepts of the Liberal Arts series.

Each lecture-discussion program consists of four sessions which meet once a month in the Century Room of the Conference Center. The flexibility of this series makes it possible for anyone of the 200-or-more persons generally enrolled to attend more than one course of the "Legacy of Man—Liberal Arts" lecture-discussions.

A fee of $10.00 is required for each program.

Enrollment Figures Vault; Registration Nears End

Students crowd into Registrars' Office to boost enrollment total to a new high.

Once again the University of Omaha has shattered existing enrollment records for both day and night school.

Figures released Wednesday, incomplete as registration continues through this afternoon, listed a total of 7,235 students.

The College of Adult Education, with another week remaining to register, counted an even four thousand.

The 3,235 day school total will grow after late registration, which must be completed by 4 p. m. today, is added.

Last year's fall semester registration was 6,722—3,893 in night school and 2,829 attending day classes.

Second semester totals, with the normal day school drop-out rate, included 2,731 day students and 4,200 in CAE.

A registrar's office spokesman said that an estimated 11 hundred new students, freshmen and transfers, is included in the total.

About two hundred student nurses and two hundred bootstrappers are also figured in the counting.

She said CAE students may register any time prior to the second meeting of the class which would allow, in some cases, until next Friday night.

Schedule changes, she added, must be completed by the same deadlines as registrations.

Courses may be dropped, however, for several weeks to come.

Strnad Announces Fall Gateway Staff

Gateway editor-in-chief Linda Strnad has named her official editorial staff for the first semester.

Ken Zimmerman will be managing editor; and Carol Sue Child, news editor. Karen Pope will edit features; Angus Campbell, sports; and Gail Grove, society.

Pam Stronberg will be make-up editor; Chuck Barry, Carol Robinson and Carolyn Richmond, copy-readers; and Randy Parker, editorial cartoonist.

Robert Barnes, University business manager of student affairs, will serve as business manager. Photographer will be George Ragan.

Reporters will be named next week.

Enrollment Jumps For Future RN's

Student nurses' enrollment at the University of Omaha has increased markedly this semester.

The students registered at their respective hospitals, Sept. 9 and 13. Enrollment is as follows: Immanuel, 40 nurses, two x-ray technicians; Clarkson, 50 nurses; Jenny Edmundson, 29; Methodist, 55, and University, 25 pre-nurses.

Twenty-one nurses are enrolled in night school to receive their B.S. in education.

A coffee hour was given for the new student nurses Sept. 14. President Milo Bail and Dean Carl Helmstadter of the Applied Arts College gave welcoming speeches and introduced the teachers.

Alum Association Elects New Board

New president of the OU Alumni Association is Robert Schropp, '54 graduate. He took office September 1 after serving on the Board of Directors four years. Schropp succeeds Richard McFayden. The new president is currently assistant district manager of Northwestern Bell Telephone Company.

New Board members are Lenita Anderson, Robert Beebe, Helen Howl (re-elected), Marilyn Siebert Kiffin, Byron Miller (re-elected), Harold Poff (re-elected), Harold Sage, and Gary Sallquist, all for three-year terms.

Others are Lewis Radcliffe (two-year term) and Joann White Helme (one-year term).

Author to Speak

Letitia Baldrige, former social secretary to Ambassador Clare Booth Luce and author of the book, "Roman Candle," will be guest speaker at a Waokya coffee hour, Thursday, Sept. 29.

The program, beginning at 4 p. m. in the library Conference Center, will be open to all University women.

15 Staff Members Added to School Office Personnel

Fifteen new members were added to the university staff this year.

In the Business Office Robert Barnes was appointed business manager of student activities. Among his duties will be the auditing of club and fraternity books, and budget control of student organizations.

New Registrar Help

The Registrars Office has acquired two members, Patricia Carroll and Janet Olson.

Raymond Means is the new public service librarian. In charge of the library circulation desk is Margaret Link.

Working as receptionists are Susan Francke in the Business Office and Carol Ann Erickson in the Student Personnel Office.

In the Steno Bureau is Ijah Hanley, an Addressograph operator and Cora Martin, who works in the purchasing department.

Three Secretaries

Doing the various secretarial duties are Myrie Pantier, secretary of Dr. Kirk Naylor, newly-appointed Dean of Administration; Sharon Jakobsen, secretary to Dr. Donald Woods, Dean of CAE; Darlene Erickson, secretary of Dr. John Lucas, Dean of Business Administration.

James Lien is the new postal clerk.

Malvina Stephens is the new night and Saturday morning nurse.

George Ragan, previously part-time, is now a full-time radio-TV technician.

'University Nights' Cultural Series To Begin Tonight

The College of Adult Education will present its "University Nights" series on Friday evenings, 8 to 10 in the Conference Center Auditorium.

The first program will be tonight with a panel on fine arts. The panel will consist of Dr. Edwin Clark, drama, Joseph Levine, music, and Eugene Kingman, art.

"Monsieur Vincent," a film based on the life of St. Vincent de Paul, will be shown Sept. 30.

Floor discussion will follow the lecture by history professor Dr. Thomas Bonner on Oct. 7. Dr. Bonner will probe the concepts of an "Ideal American" as well as appraise "the American Character."

Victor P. Hass, Omaha's outstanding book reviewer, will discuss contemporary writing and the American novel of the mid-century on Oct. 14.

A question and-answer session will follow the discussion of military strategy in America by Lt. Gen. Francis H. Griswold on Oct. 21. Gen. Griswold is vice-commander-in-chief of the Strategic Air Command. Visual materials will underline this presentation.

"Hypnosis in Modern Medicine" will be presented by Dr. Willis H. Taylor, Jr., on Oct. 28. He will trace the surgical significance of hypnosis.

Films, recordings, and live performance will highlight the jazz ensemble on Nov. 4. Dr. William Jaynes, industrial testing will present the program dealing with jazz from the turn of the century to the present.

Nov. 17 and Nov. 18 are the dates of the first University dramatic production of the fall season. For this event University Nights' patrons have the choice of attending either night.

Dec. 2 is a date that is left open so that an even more current interest can be discussed.

On Dec. 9 an interpretation of the ballet will be made by Mr. Joseph Levine, conductor of the Omaha Symphony. Newly selected films will also be shown.

On Dec. 16 the University Choir will present a Christmas program. The Choir is under the direction of assistant Prof. Melvin D. Olson.

New metered parking facilities were installed this summer on the immediate west end of the Applied Arts and Science Building. They cost over 20-thousand dollars. The only permanently paved road of five was built at a cost of nearly 17 thousand dollars. 178 meters placed at each side of the asphalt road cost almost five and one-half thousand dollars.

Beyond 30

Coin-Grabbers Gain Ground on Campus

By Ken Zimmerman.

It was with enthusiasm, zeal, optimism and all those things recommended in the Student Handbook that I came bounding back to these hallowed walls for another try.

Everything looked about the same at first glance but when I reached the west parking lot I stopped.

That creeping cancer has swallowed up another portion of our shrinking campus.

Another crop of parking meters has sprung up.

Whether they are the fall harvest of a spring sewing of shredded parking tickets or whether they were secretly installed by a group of migratory Chinese laborers who passed through on a foggy night, one fact remains.

There's another batch of gleaming coin-grabbers to plague the thoughtless who don't carry change and the forgetful who don't scamper out every hour to renew their lease.

Seems like they pop up like dandelions.

This season's crop, we are told, is designed to move parkers around a bit—to patronize some of the other lots.

Seems as though everybody was gobbling up those choice spots along the Applied Arts Building and neglecting some of the pay-as-you-park spots.

So the powers-that-be made their move. They bought five thousand dollars worth of the little monsters, sloshed down a layer of asphalt (you gotta get something for your nickel) and one more land of freedom falls behind the silver curtain.

Now, informed sources tell us, that paving job set the University back 17 thousand dollars.

Total cost for the new installation: 440 thousand nickels.

Figured at the bargain rate of six hours for a quarter, that's 528 thousand hours of parking to pay for the project.

That's 22-thousand days or 60 years of parking.

Maybe this is the only way to meet a mushrooming parking problem. If it is, it's unfortunate.

Something about parking meters makes them non-conductive to the accepted university atmosphere.

They've been hotly debated everywhere from the O'Connell Room to the Forty-Niner with the same results that a discussion of the weather produces.

No one's come up with a better idea to provide paved parking lots without draining the budget. Maybe a contest would inspire new ideas from new thinkers.

'Course we could always pass a special wheel tax.

At any rate, let's all help stamp out cancer.

Letters Commend Freshmen Day, Question Early Sing

Dear Editor,

This letter is written to thank all the students, faculty, and administrative workers on Freshmen Orientation Day. Without your excellent cooperation and splendid interest Orientation Day could not have run so smoothly. The Student Council hopes, too, that they can continue to expect your support of the University during the entire coming school year. Many thanks again for a job well done.

The Student Council

Dear Editor:

Each year hundreds of OU Greeks crowd into Tietz's Barn for the annual Sig-Ep Sing. Every year they all enjoy themselves singing, dancing and visiting.

Many agree, however, that it would be even more enjoyable if it would be one week later. Then the organizations would have more time to practice songs, to welcome pledges and get their study schedules organized.

Sig Eps, is it possible?

THE NEW ALGEBRA

Take this course on television for credit

Your school is now offering full academic credit for participation in Modern Algebra, a television course offered weekday mornings* on Continental Classroom. To obtain credit, undergraduates are required to view the program three days a week; teachers desiring graduate credit—five days a week. Prerequisites: high school algebra and geometry. Contact the Registrar on your campus for enrollment details. The teachers are Dr. John L. Kelley of the University of California at Berkeley, and Dr. Julius H. Hlavaty of DeWitt Clinton High School of New York City. The textbook, written especially for this course, is Dr. Kelley's "Modern Algebra," published by D. Van Nostrand, Inc. You may also enroll in Continental Classroom's Modern Chemistry—Monday through Friday*. Produced by the National Broadcasting Company in association with the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences and Learning Resources Institute.

STARTS MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, ON NBC

*Check your local listings for time and channel number.

Papooses Are Dropped for This Season

There will be no Papoose squad this fall!

Only 42 players were out for the Papooses after the first squad roster had been announced, and most of them were first year men. Assistant football coach Don Benning said that it was felt these men would gain good experience working out with the varsity squad.

At the present time, the varsity roster counts 17 freshmen and 10 sophomores.

Intramurals to Start Monday

Intramural sports will be getting off to a flying start next week when flag football begins on Monday. The schedule will be announced in the next issue, if it is available.

Bowling is the next sport to be started and will begin in the near future. The West Lanes Bowlatorium will once again be the sight for the matches this season. The time is 3:15 and the day either Wednesday or Thursday.

All those participating in intramurals are urged by Mr. Kurth to watch the GATEWAY for schedules and other news pertaining to their respective sports.

Band, Indiannes Will Entertain at First Home Game

The band and the Indiannes will highlight the pre-game and half-time festivities of the opening home game this Saturday evening.

The band will present a show designed to get out the vote in the coming presidential election. The theme of the show is "Don't veto your chances; vote for the party of your choice."

Selections will honor the candidates and the eventual winner, while formations will salute the two parties.

The Indiannes boast a new leader and the following new members: Sharon Baity, Mary Cooper, Sandra Cunningham, Shirley Fick, Bronwen Hanks, Helen Hughes, Milda Markus, Jan Meyers, Karen Nelson, Sherri Payne, Lynn Sawyer, Barbara Shradar, Kathleen Ferry and Jacque Whitmore. They will also entertain during half-time.

Ouampi Dick Back will be on the field to help bolster the spirit of the Indian rooters.

Omaha U Grad Made ASA Fellow

A General Electric scientist at the Knolls Atomic Power Laboratory (KAPL), Schenectady, New York, has been elected a fellow of the American Statistical Association.

Dr. Max Halperin, a native of Omaha, received a B.A. degree in mathematics from the University of Omaha in 1940.

KAPL is made up of professional people engaged in developing and promoting the use of statistical methods. Recognition is based on the individual's outstanding original contributions through publications or promotion of statistical methods.

Gas Turbine Truck

A gas turbine was recently installed in a truck used to haul ore at International Nickel's open pit mine in the Sudbury District of Ontario. Rated at 225 horsepower, the turbine-powered truck is being used to haul a load of 32 tons up an 8 per cent grade around the walls of the open pit mine.

Many Extras Will Feature Home Games

Nearly every home football game this fall will have a special event connected with it. This Saturday's home opener against Adams State will be played at Municipal Stadium and will begin at 8 p. m. under the lights.

The Colorado Mines game will also be played at Muni Stadium. Dad's Day will also be celebrated that day, Oct. 1. With the Fort Hayes game the playing site will switch to the more familiar grounds of the Omaha U. Stadium and game time will be moved to 2 p. m. This game will be the highlight of Band Day festivities. Homecoming Day Oct. 22 will bring the Emporia State Hornets to challenge the Indians. The final game of the season will pit OU against the Pittsburg State "Gorillas." Both of these games will be at the OU field.

WRA to Launch Membership Drive

The Women's Recreation Association will hold a membership drive from Sept. 26 to the 28th.

WRA is open to all college women. All interested women are encouraged to sign up in the Student Center during the drive.

All new members are invited to the picnic Sept. 29, at 4:30 p. m. Casual clothes will be the rule. In case of rain the picnic will be held in the P.E. hut.

CIC Gridders Break Even in First Tests

Central Intercollegiate colleges managed to win only half of their opening games.

Leading the list of opening day victories was St. Benedict's who grabbed a 33-21 win over Fort Riley, Kansas. Also in the win column were Pittsburg State, 6-0 over Southwest Missouri, and Fort Hayes, 20-12 over Kearney State.

CIC losers were Omaha U., 26-12 to Morningside; Washburn, 9-7 to Colorado College; Emporia, 21-12 to Central Missouri.

Maroons Down Indians, 26-13

O.U. met defeat in the first game of the season on Sept. 15, as Morningside beat the Indians 26-13.

After taking the kick off from the 33, the Maroons marched 67 yards in 14 plays to tally the first touchdown.

Late in the second quarter, 16 plays put the Maroons in scoring range. John Dorman scored from one yard out.

O.U.'s Mike Conway skirted the end in the last three minutes of the third period for 48 yards and a touchdown.

Later, Indian Wayne Backes scored on a four-yard plunge and Darnell Mallory kicked the extra point.

The Maroons made their last score of the game when Elmer Menage tallied from seven yards out, and also made the extra point.

O.U. 0 0 6 7-13
Morningside 6 6 0 14-26

'Tough' Adams St. OU Foe Tomorrow

"Adams State is going to be in good physical shape for the game. He and the University coaching staff pushed O.U.'s gridders hard, stressing defense during practice this week."

With the above statement, Omaha U. Football Coach Al Caniglia previewed tomorrow night's O.U.-Adams St. eight o'clock grid contest at Municipal Stadium.

Last week Adams St. rolled over Western New Mexico 47-12, and O.U. dropped a 26-13 decision to Morningside College in Sioux City.

Caniglia classifies State as a tough, veteran ball club, possessing, size speed, and passing ability.

Darrel Mudra, Adams St. coach, is a former O.U. coach and South High grad. Last year he guided his team through a nine wins and one loss season.

Defense Is Stressed
Caniglia says the Indians are

He and the University coaching staff pushed O.U.'s gridders hard, stressing defense during practice this week.

Coach Caniglia said the young Omaha U. squad made a lot of mistakes in Sioux City, but he's hoping they can correct them for tomorrow night's game.

He blames overly cautious play on defense as the main reason for the loss to Morningside. "We were playing too close to the belt in the Morningside game. Adams St. has a more wide open offense and this week we changed our defense to meet it," he said.

Offense Is Stressed

Caniglia praised the OU offense during the Morningside contest saying "we'll move against anybody this year." He also reported the coaching staff is happy with the kicking game and punt coverage.

He didn't single out anyone OU football player as out-shining the rest in the Morningside game, but said the team play was good and he expects more of it during the season.

The OU squad is made up of primarily freshmen and sophomores, and with a little experience under their belts Caniglia expects them to win ball games this year.

Bridge Lessons Held in Center

The first session of the free bridge lessons will be held today at 3 p. m. in room 312 A and B in the Student Center. Students interested in taking the lessons may sign up at the information desk in the Student Center.

There will be 10 sessions during the first semester. The sessions will be weekly on Friday, except for vacations.

Mrs. Eleanor Seidel, a profes-sional teacher in Omaha, will start with beginning bridge lessons and hopes to work students up to bridge tournaments.

Dates for the lessons are Sep-tember 23 and 30, October 7 and 28, November 4, 11 and 18, and December 2 and 9.

Lighter Crankshafts

Hollow automobile crankshafts made of ductile iron are about 40 per cent lighter than those made of forged steel.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Hosts Annual Greek Sing Tonight

Honorary to Hold Picnic and Meeting

Alpha Lambda Delta will com-bine its first meeting of the semester with a picnic at Elmwood Park Tuesday at 4 p.m.

The 21 active members of Alpha Lambda Delta have invited the alums to attend.

During the business part of th meeting, members will make plans for the Alpha Lambda Delta Tea Oct. 30. The tea will honor high scorers on the entrance examina-tions.

Newman Club Invites New Student Members

The Newman Club will hold a "Get-Acquainted Meeting" Sun-day at 5 p. m. in the Student Center. The object of the meet-ing is to welcome new Catholic students to Omaha University and invite them to join the club.

They will hold a dance at the Cathedral Auditorium after the meeting.

Platinum Once Worth Less Than Gold

Certain gold mines in South America were abandoned during the Eighteenth Century because a large quantity of platinum was found to be mixed with the gold. Platinum in those times was worth considerably less than gold.

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will be the host tonight at Tietz's Barn for their tenth annual Sig Ep Sing.

The all-Greek event will begin at 7:30 p. m. with group singing followed by competition songs from each fraternity and sorority. Men will compete with "Lida Rose" and the women with "Zing-ing, Zoom Zoom."

Cider and donuts will be served by the Sig Ep's, fraternity and sorority winners will be announced and dancing will follow to Bob Scott's Knight Beats Combo.

Ken Brink and Ken Edwards are co-chairmen of the Sing with Terry Olsen as master of ceremonies.

Directive sign swill be posted along the highway.

YWCA Sponsors Tea

The Omaha University YWCA will be host to new women stu-dents and freshmen at a fashion show and tea Tuesday in Room 312 A & B of the Student Center.

The fashion show will begin at 4 p. m. with Linda Strnad as commentator. The theme of the show will be "Out of the Past."

Here's how the DUAL FILTER DOES IT:

1. It combines a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL... definitely proved to make the taste of a cigarette mild and smooth...
2. with a pure white outer filter. Together they select and balance the flavor elements in the smoke. Tareyton's flavor-balance gives you the best taste of the best tobaccos.
